Dedication

The Class of 1983 would like to give Dr. Maurine Horsman the best gift we have to offer-the dedication of our yearbook. Through her kindness, leadership, support and guidance we have all gained a friend.

Dr. Horsman has been at NASC since 1969 and presently holds a position in the English Department. It was largely through her efforts that the Public Relations track was organized within this department. Dr. Horsman has also recently been appointed English Careers Adviser, which involves assisting English majors in finding internships and post-graduate work. She has also endeavored to take on the position of adviser to our college yearbook, for which we are truly grateful.

Surely, Dr. Horsman is dedicated to this school and to all of us who are graduating in 1983. We would like to take this time to thank her for ALL the help and perseverance she has displayed in our four years on this campus.

Foreword

North Adams State College, located in the heart of the Berkshire Mountains, was founded in 1894. Thirty-two women and three men made up the first student body and the campus consisted of only Murdock Hall and Smith House (the presidential residence). Since this time the college has gone through many changes and incredible growth.

It wasn't until 1960 that the name of the college was changed from "North Adams State Teachers College" to its present name. It was also at this time that the curriculum was expanded to include other majors besides Education. The enrollment kept growing as well as the size of the campus and subsequent number of buildings.

Because the growth of this college spanned so many years the architecture of each building is different. The different types of windows represented by each seems to reflect this difference in time.

Just as all these elements have been brought together to provide us with a rich and diversified education, we, as people, have come together for the purpose of learning. Just as the windows of this school represent their own time and place, our eyes represent us as our "windows to the world".

Graduating Class of 1921.

We, the Staff of the 1983 Mohawk have worked hard and diligently to produce a memorable yearbook for you. It is our sincere hope that you will all enjoy it today and also in the many years to come.

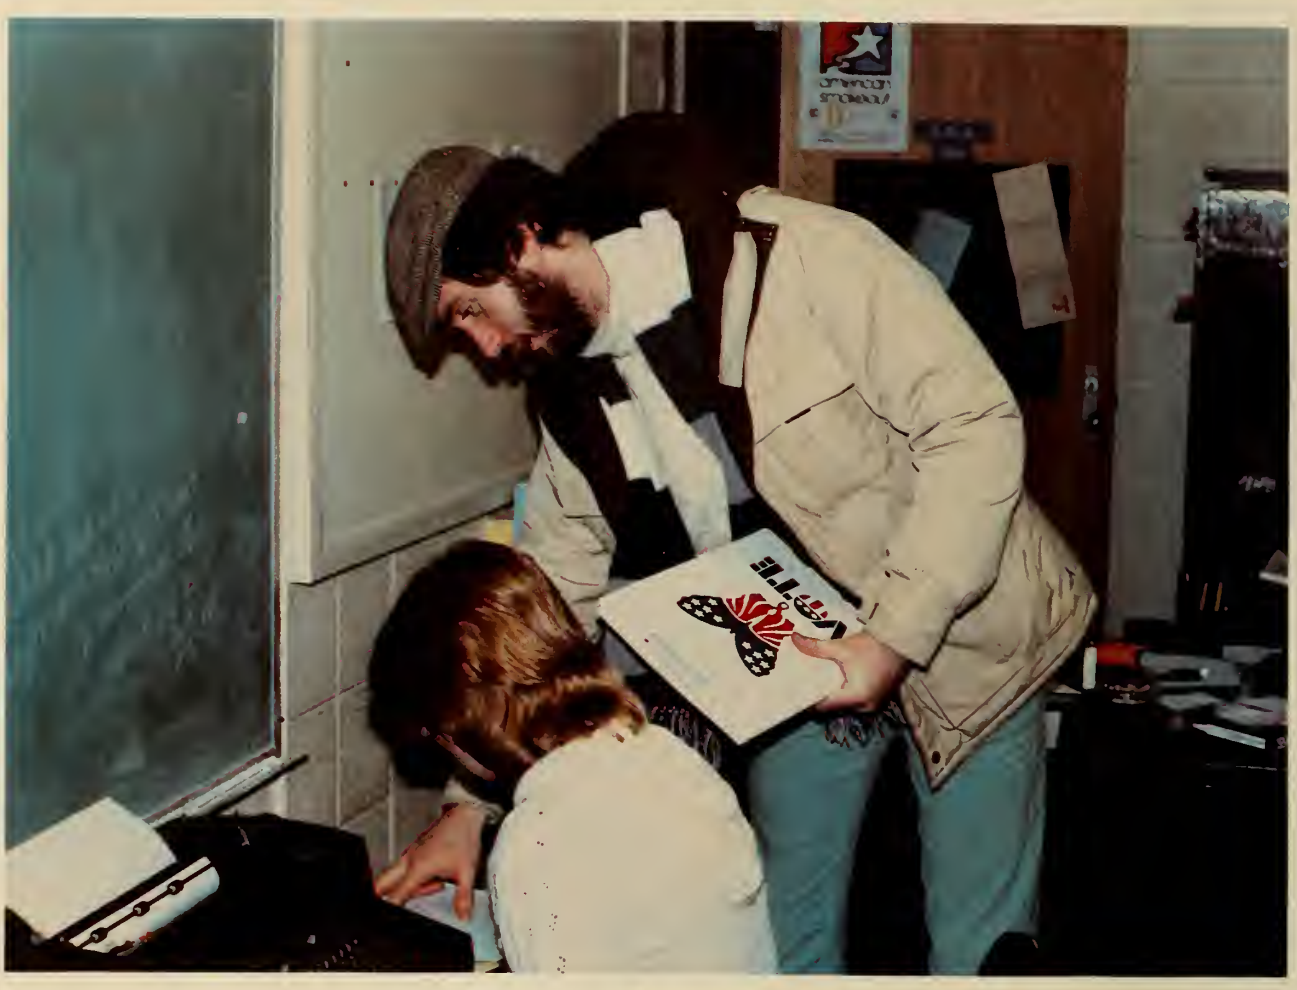
Looking In

We all need time to be alone: to rest, to contemplate, to look within. We catch these moments when we can. Often, they occur between the lines of a book, in the walk between classes, or in the night before falling to sleep. This time is important. It helps us to maintain a feeling for who we are and where we fit into this often crazy world.

It's always important to take time out to do our own things.

Spending some time outdoors to do things with our friends.



Looking Out

Looking out into the world we find we each have our own unique perspective, our own view. What we actually "see" is largely influenced by that part of our lives which has already passed. We are faced each day with the challenge of adding new perspectives to this already existing view. We succeed in doing this to a large extent with the help of our friends and lovers. Through communication and interaction we add a new dimension to our lives.

Looking Around

Looking around us we find a very complex world. It is made up of matter and energy. It is filled with theories, ideas, and emotions. We are forever interacting with this constantly changing world. Our motion sends us about our world of school, sports, jobs and parties. We study, and dance, and talk, and sing, and learn .....

Sometimes we need to get away from the seriousness of life and do some clowning around.

With the help of dedicated people like Coach Shewcraft we continue to pursue our future goals.

Broader Horizons

. . . . And that was why we were here- to learn, to broaden our knowledge of ourselves and the world. To try to take that knowledge and apply it toward the work we must do to sustain ourselves and our fellow world citizens. Through our teachers, coaches, advisers; through books and other media our eyes have been opened to encompass a much broader view of life. We have rolled up the shade of our windows- may we grow in the light of our new perceptions.

A letter from President William P. Haas to the graduating class of 1983 .....

February 16, 1983

Dear Graduate:

1979 was a great year, remember? That is when you and I arrived at NASC, you as freshmen and I as president. We both had much to learn, problems to solve, friends to make and memories to store.

Now you have reached a plateau in your lives from which you must begin again to plan the future. Hopefully, many of you have a good idea of what your next step will be. Others of you are perhaps still as uncertain about some things as you were as freshmen. And that is not all bad either - if you realize your uncertainty and know how to deal with it.

For what it is worth, I learned the hard way that the future is always to a large degree uncertain. It is the present in which you can grasp the reality of your strengths and weaknesses, that gives some measure of certainty.

I hope that I have been able to make some contribution to your success at NASC. Mrs. Haas and I have enjoyed the friendship of many of you and will always have a special fondness for the class of '83. Keep growing, keep learning and keep up the good work! And best wishes for the future.

Sincerely,

William P. Haas

Ellen Kennedy, president of the Student Government Association 1982-83, presiding over some serious business. It was a tough year for both the SGA and campus organizations because funds were low, but we made it through!

Here we go again! Another course, another instructor- whew! Four years of shuffling in and out of classrooms on our journey through the college experience. It took a lot of time, energy and effort to get through the seemingly endless number of classes.

LEARNING SKILL CENTER

Programs offered by the Learning Skill Center are intended to support students and prospective students who need help beyond that which is offered in regular classes. The purpose of these programs is to help students deal more effectively with their college courses by enabling them to understand and work on individual programs in Mathematics, English, Reading, and Study Skills. The Learning Skill Center is staffed with teachers, teacher assistants, and tutors to provide academic support in specific college courses. The center imparts the basic skills required both for effective work in college and for the satisfying pursuit of life-long learning.

In Memorium

On Friday morning, March 25, 1983, Randy Warren was killed in a pedestrian accident while vacationing in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. Call it fate or God's will if you so believe, but the unanswerable question will always remain — why?

Randy was a senior here at NASC who was scheduled to graduate in May. He was a Business Administration major concentrating in the marketing.

Like all young men of 22, Randy had high hopes and aspirations for his future life. He was a man with guts enough to take on a challenge and come out a winner. A man whose hopes and dreams were realistic and within grasp. A man who would have obtained what he so desired had he not been suddenly taken away.

Randy was an active person with a seemingly unlimited supply of energy. He loved most to ski, on both water and land, and his expertise was obvious. He was a go-getter who strove for perfection in everything he did. He was a friend to all who knew him.

Never again will we be able to see the happy-go-lucky red head in physical presence, but he will live forever in our hearts and minds. His crazy laugh and his bad jokes are only memories now. But they are merely a speck of the endless memories that will never be forgotten by those of us who knew and loved him.

Rest in peace good friend.

Intramural Programs

Over the past four years, most members of our class have spent countless hours competing with and against our friends in the NASC Intramural Program. The program was organized so that all of us, no matter what our athletic abilities, could enjoy healthful activities in a friendly, competitive atmosphere.

Participation in this program not only helped give us a bit of diversion from our studies; it kept us physically fit in the process. From tossing the disc in Ultimate Frisbee to moving pegs on the Cribbage board, there was something in the program that attracted our attention as participants. Many of us also became avid spectators as we cheered our friends on to victory. Others got involved by becoming I-M Council members, game officials and program supervisors and thus enhanced our leadership skills through these experiences. We will look back fondly with memories of the Floor Hockey playoffs in Venable Gym, the Golf tournaments at Stamford Valley, the indoor Soccer tournament, Hoop finals, activities in the game room, matches in the Racquetball court and of the many other programs through which we made life-long friends.

JAMES T. AMSLER INTRAMURAL SERVICE AWARD

STEPHEN FORFA
THOMAS WILCOX

Given to two seniors who have worked throughout their college years for the betterment of the Intramural Program. This award is named after the college's former president.

RAYMOND C. SULLIVAN I-M TEAM SPORTSMANSHIP AWARD

BUNYEAS
NINERS

Awarded annually to the I-M teams that have demonstrated leadership on the field of play through their sportsmanlike attitude. The teams receiving this award must have played together as a unit for a three to four year period. This award is named after former Dean of Students Sullivan who is currently teaching in the Education Department.

RANDALL WARREN UNSUNG HERO AWARD

KEVIN KILEY

Given annually to the senior student who best exemplifies determination, dedication and competitiveness in a manner which encourages the underlying spirit of the entire Intramural Program. This award is named after Randy Warren; a member of our class who unexpectedly lost his life in March of 1983.

MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1983 ELECTED TO SERVE ON THE I-M COUNCIL:

Darcie Hunt, Jim Kennedy, John McHale, Kevin B. O'Connor, Jerry Shay, Tom Wilcox, Tony Sanchez, Joel Brothers, Dana Barisano.

Berkshire Towers

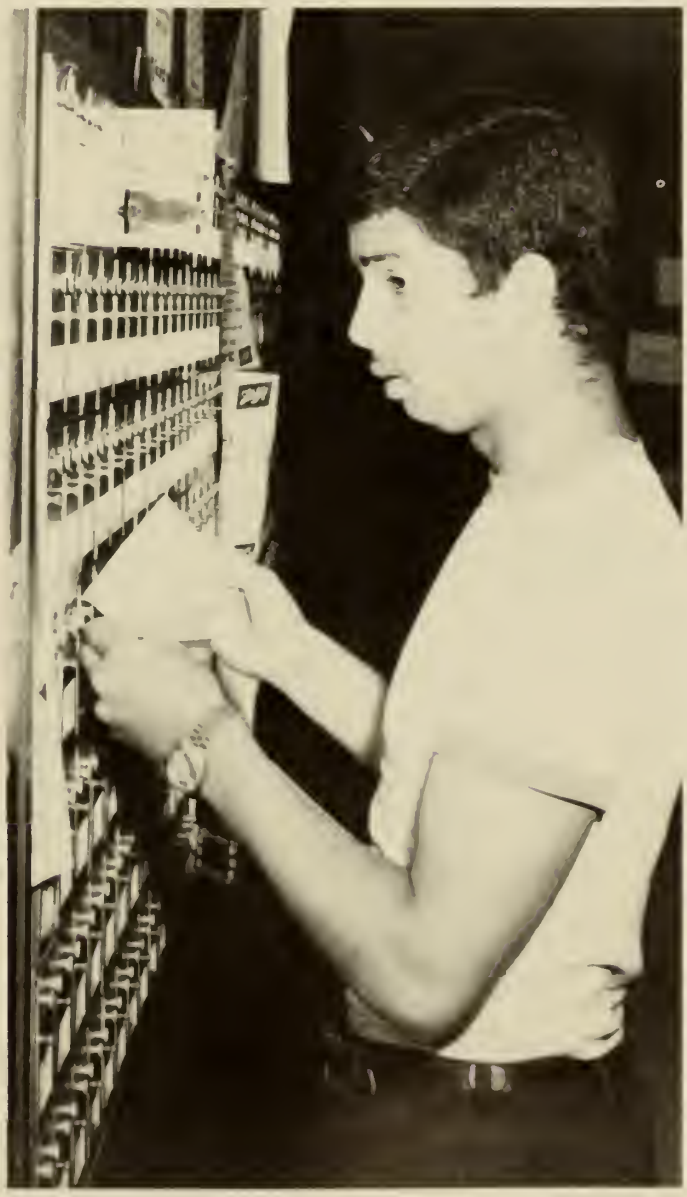
The Towers: an interesting experience in living! Was it good or couldn't you wait to get out of there? All those people together, most of whom had never "lived" for any length of time away from home. Can you remember? You'll have to because these pictures don't come close to depicting what life there was really like. Oh well, happy remembering, anyway.

BERKSHIRE

BUSCH
SPRING FLING '83

Hoosac Hall

Remember checking your mailbox everyday? It wasn't that you were homesick - not really. But you wanted to stay connected to the world you left behind when you entered college. Maybe you had a boyfriend or girlfriend to keep in touch with over the miles - that was a little tough. But there was plenty to do to keep busy: going to classes, studying. or just finding time to relax, maybe with some new found friends.



Townhouses

A step up in living! At least you had your own kitchen, and some sort of feeling that you were a little more self-sufficient there. Roommates could still be a problem! It wasn't always easy living with up to five other individuals in the same apartment. But then again, you got real tight with some of them and maybe even established friendships for life. And then there were lots of good parties and zany times, and helping each other through heartaches and heart breaks and life and hey - we all "get by with a little help from our friends"!

Off-Campus

Off campus living was even more diverse than any of the other on-campus situations. You found friends to share apartments with and enjoyed some additional privileges and "freedoms". Quiet people could try to find quiet apartments and co-ed living became your own business. Some people lived at home with parents and some parents became students. All in all, off campus living was a great experience. For some of us it also made moving back home a little hard to do!

What Did You Do In Your

Free Time?!?

Didn't It Seem To Slip Away Too Fast?

Due to the poor response of Clubs and other Campus Organizations to participate in the Yearbook, there were several extra pages left in this section. And because there were so many graduation photos (and also because it is your book), we decided to dedicate the next six pages to the Graduating Class of 1983.

NASC Sports

As the 1982-83 academic year winds down to a close, Intercollegiate Athletics at NASC must not go unnoticed. Hard work and dedication by both players and coaches put NASC in a class by itself, head and shoulders above the rest in the Massachusetts State Conference.

A total of thirteen teams representing twelve sports competed in four conferences with over half of the Mohawk squads experiencing winning campaigns.

This was a different year from those of seasons past. Both the Men's Soccer and Men's Ice Hockey teams were expected to improve their respective records from that of a year ago. Both squads got off to a slow start, but with the determination and dedication of the players and coaches involved, each team finished strong. The ice hockey team finished well enough to earn a berth in the ECAC Hockey Tournament for the fourth consecutive season, while the soccer team finished a win or two shy of the same accomplishment. The top women's team was in volleyball. The Mohawk Spikers qualified for their second straight season tourney appearance after duplicating their 1982 performance with ten victories during the regular season.

The Coed Alpine Ski team , in its second year as a varsity sport, came two points away from qualifying for the national tournament. The Men's Cross Country, Basketball and Baseball teams won more than they lost while placing high in their respective leagues. Youth and inexperience hampered the Women's Field Hockey, Tennis, Basketball and Softball teams from achieving winning seasons.

Whether it be a win on the field, or a loss on the court, the 1982-83 Mohawk athletes demonstrated true sportsmanship and dedication. Win or lose, they can hold their heads high with pride - they were NASC Mohawks!

Parent's Weekend

This was the weekend to share the beauty of the Berkshires with your parents and catch up on old news. (And you had to be on your best behavior, too!)

Entertainment was provided by the Motets, Orchestra and Chorale over the weekend and a dance was held for parents and their sons and daughters.

The many smiling faces show that a good time was had by all.

Winter Study '83

Each year in January, NASC offers special learning experiences through the Winter Study program. During this mini-semester students participated in many courses and other activities which revolved around these themes: New England, Modern Times and The 1960's.

The themes were supplemented with speakers including Arlo Guthrie, who came to NASC to tell of his experiences as a protest singer in the sixties.

Many students joined with the Oldcastle Theater Company to perform in "Our Town," a play by Thornton Wilder while others in the Cabaret cast "Let the Sunshine In".

The remains of the Neolithic Calendar Stonehenge in Salisbury, England was one famous attraction visited by students traveling abroad. Other courses offered excursions to well-known sites in New England.

Winter Study was also a time to make the most of the snow with cross-country skiing, snowshoeing and winter camping.

Whale Watch

Two bus loads of people headed out on this excursion in search of whales. It wasn't long after boarding the ship when the first whale was sighted. . . . "Thar she blows" . . .

Many whales were sightedduring the four hours at sea and each one was a thriller. A few students turned out to be seasick seamen but the day was great overall!

Theatre

Did you go "mad" with the "Madwoman of Chaillot"? The play was filled with ups and downs, highs and lows, romance, song, dance, cope, good and evil - a comedy with serious and moving moments. This infatuatingly funny performance brought many sold-out shows and standing ovations.

The spring production, "Desperate Hours" was a modern slam-bang melodrama that illustrated the flexible abilities and qualities of NASC's student actors. An excellent performance which proved to be a real crowd pleaser.

A day in May filled with sun and suds!! Plenty of kegs were emptied as everyone rocked out to the sounds of Benevolence at the athletic complex. Canoe jousting was one quick way to get in the water. Or you may have warmed up with a volleyball game. This event, sponsored by the Outing Club, will surely be remembered for many years to come.

Barbeque

Monday • May 23 • 1983
Fireland • Townhouses

The long lost sun finally broke through the clouds to shine upon the beginning of Senior Week. Everything was great at the barbecue — the chicken and the brownies, if you managed to get one.

Molson Night
Tuesday • May 24 • 1983

Steve Binder filled the pub with his music as we filled ourselves with 40¢ Molsons. Some preferred the tables to the dance floor. All the more room for those on the floor. More than just whistles rang through the pub.

Senior Picnic

Wednesday • May 25 • 1983
Clarksburg State Forest

The weather couldn't have been better for the senior picnic in Clarksburg. Everything seemed to run smoothly until people were warned not to eat the streamers and the beer ran out with two and one-half hours to go. Thirsty seniors aren't about to let that stop them . . . One by one the cars left and then returned with plenty of tall cold ones.

Jiminy Peak
Thursday • May 26 • 1983

As the rain reigned on Thursday many disappointed seniors climbed aboard buses and headed towards Jiminy Peak. Even though the alpine slide would be closed everyone was trying to make the best of it. After a slow start an announcement came over the speakers: "If the rain holds off another fifteen minutes, we'll be able to open the slide." Cheers and whistles filled the room. Once the rain held off, it turned out to be another great day. The slide brought many smiles and even some bumps and bruises to the daring.

Champagne Brunch
Friday • May 27 • 1983

At last . . . the champagne brunch. Just what everyone needed to end a crazy week. The tired looks and heavy eyelids proved a busy Senior week was coming to an end.

Graduation
Saturday • May 28 • 1983

Graduation day was finally here - hooray! A day to celebrate the culmination of 4 years of hard work in pursuit of a degree. It was a great day, one made expressively to recognize our accomplishments. At the same time however, it was also a sad day for many of us as we said goodbye.

President Haas

THANK YOU
MOM

It turned out to be a beautiful day weatherwise. It was a bit windy while waiting to line up which kept you grabbing for your hat. And would somebody tell me please why they make you line up so early before the ceremony! We all could have slept (or partied) an hour longer. Anyway, the whole thing seemed to go quite smoothly. Speeches were sat through, as well as the giving of honorary degrees until finally - your name was called - you made it! Here is sincerely wishing you all the best of luck and hoping your degree works as hard for you as you did for it.
